Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—About three years back it was referred to the Andhra Government.

Sri S. MUNIRAJU.—Was it not included in the First Five-Year Plan?

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—It was subject to the agreement of the Andhra Government.

Sri S. MUNIRAJU.—May I know whether this was referred to the Andhra Government, or the Government of India itself took objection?

Sri M. N. NAGHNOOR.—We referred to the Andhra Government for concurrence because we have to undertake programmes in concurrence with them.

Sri S. MUNIRAJU.—What is the purpose of constructing Thirumani Ane?

Sri M. N. NAGHNOOR.—It is going to feed a number of tanks and again it may command an independent atchkat of its own.

Sri S. MUNIRAJU.—May I know whether an independent atchkat can come into being?

Sri M. N. NAGHNOOR.—There is the possibility, but that aspect has not so far been investigated.

Sri S. MUNIRAJU.—When it is a question of serving a feeder channel, does it deserve to be referred to the Andhra Government?

Sri M. N. NAGHNOOR.—Yes, because to feed means to ensure water supply and it is taking more water supply.

Sri S. MUNIRAJU.—May I know when no additional water will be stored in the tank, it is only storing just to act as a feeder channel to several tanks, is it necessary that it should be referred to the Andhra Government?

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Under the 1892 Agreement whenever we propose to improve upon the existing anecut or impound or utilise water in one of the rivers in Schedule 1, we will have to obtain the concurrence of the Madras Government and the Andhra area was part of Madras State at that time and now we have to obtain the concurrence of the Andhra Government in place of the Madras Government.

Mr. DEPUTY SPEAKER.—Question time is over.
